(CPD PROVIDER ACCREDITED BY THE CYPRUS BAR ASSOCIATION)

GLOBAL CYBER-SECURITY (7 CPD Hours)

DATES: FRIDAY 30TH NOVEMBER 2018 (16:30-18:30) & SATURDAY 1ST DECEMBER 2018 (09:30-13:30)

VENUE: HILTON HOTEL, ARCHBISHOP MAKARIOS III AVENUE, NICOSIA, P.O. BOX 22023

Course Outline

The primary purpose of this course is to examine and analyse Global Cyber-Security.

The background to this course is formed by the world wide web. This is a tool of technological resilience and agility created and managed, to improve daily life. However, where there is good there is bad. While society innovates, it also renders itself and individuals more vulnerable. The world is not and will not be ready to absorb all potential offered by the virtual world of the internet. While becoming resilient, the world needs to face threats and challenges.

Target Audience

This Course is aimed at various persons and bodies including:

- Members of the legal profession.
- Law enforcement agencies, Police officers, Military officers.
- Experts in Cyber-Affairs (Security, Defence, IT).
- Academics with disciplinary or cross-disciplinary sessions.
- Civil servants and specialists in Government affairs.
- Civil Defence authorities.
- Managers and Company CEOs and CIOs.
- Advanced students of diverse disciplines.

This CPD programme is designed for mid-career professionals in all disciplines and fields, with a particular emphasis on law and law enforcement.

Course Aims

This CPD course will be cross-disciplinary with the overarching aim of reflecting current challenges and ongoing issues in the fields of security, law, public policy, business and informatics (IT). It will enable attendees to comprehend strategies and operations in Global Cyber-Security.

During the course, participants at the CPD course will:

- Learn how to define, examine and comprehend cyber-security in a global world through legal, strategic and operational approaches.
- Reflect on the current status of law and future laws on cyber-protection as well as strategies, tactics and operational methods of cyber-security against all elements of traditional and not traditional crime.
- Comprehend what constitutes cyber-warfare, cyber-security and defence and with what methods possible threats can be countered.
- Acquire knowledge on the fundamentals of cyber-law as well as current and future strategic challenges analysed at a global and national scale.

The Course is keeping with the mission of UCLan Cyprus, which is to offer high quality education and training to its advanced students, the professions, the business sector, experts, decision-makers and the wider community.

Certificates of participation will be issued. This Course is designed for the continuous professional development (CPD) of mid-career experts in Cyprus and internationally. UCLan Cyprus through its School of Law is a provider of CPD programmes for lawyers in Cyprus, accredited by the Cyprus Bar Association.
